Sigma Chapter Members Contend in RIMS Student Competition

On Tuesday, April 12, 2011, Sigma Chapter hosted the Delaware Valley Chapter of the Risk and Insurance Management Society's (RIMS) April meeting. The Delaware Valley Chapter invited participants of their 2nd Annual Student Competition to recognize the Student Competition finalists. The main discussion was students' interpretations of "What Does the Term 'Risk Management' Mean to You?" RIMS received submissions from students across Temple University, LaSalle University and Drexel University. Yet every participant in the competition that day simply required a quick elevator trip to the 7th floor MBA commons in Alter Hall, given that all finalists were Fox Students as well as Sigma Chapter members. Students presented their case to the audience and were judged on presentation skill and content.
