Relay For Life

Friday, April 10, 2015, 6 PM-10 PM, Pearson Hall, Temple University

American Cancer Society Relay for Life Campus events serve as a powerful way for you to raise awareness and funds in the fight against cancer. The Relay for Life movement features campus and community events that offer an opportunity to honor the cancer survivors in your life, promote how you can reduce your cancer risk, and raise money to help find a cure.

This community service event is open to all students and will count as a community service event for those taking RMI 3682. Note, that signing up for this event requires you to pay the $10 registration fee and you will need to create an account and join the Gamma Iota Sigma team. You can find directions for how to do this in the email sent by the Community Affairs team. Contact Francesca Waddington [francesca.waddington@temple.edu] with any questions.
