Fall 2018 Risk Management Exam Passers

February 11, 2019

In the property and casualty field, the CPCU and the ARM are two of the most widely recognized and respected designations. These designations distinguish the holders from their peers. They indicate a commitment to the industry. Moreover, employers and industry professionals know that CPCU and ARM designees possess an in-depth knowledge about the property and casualty industry. In addition to enhancing their technical skills, holders of these designations join an impressive network of industry leaders. Students who pass exams set themselves apart from their peers. The following is a list of students who have passed CPCU and ARM exams. We applaud them on their success!
