

PRESS RELEASE

Insurance Society of Philadelphia 100th Anniversary Scholarship Winners

April 5, 2017

Founded in 1901 in Philadelphia, the Insurance Society of Philadelphia aimed to provide a space that brought together those in the insurance community. Since its founding, the society has grown considerably and now educates those in the insurance, legal, and financial service industries through extensive courses and workshops. The Society also hosts industry wide events such as The Independence Gala and Philly I Day.

The Insurance Society of Philadelphia's 100th Anniversary Scholarship Fund provides financial benefit to outstanding Risk Management and Insurance students to support their educational endeavors. The Fund was created to honor the 100th Anniversary of the Insurance Society, which was celebrated in 2001. Scholarships are awarded annually to students at Temple University, St. Joseph University, and La Salle University who are engaged in the study of Risk Management and Insurance and who have demonstrated a commitment to their study by attaining excellent academic credentials. The scholarships were awarded at this year's Philly I Day on Thursday, March 23, 2017.

This year, the society awarded nine scholarships and the Sigma Chapter is proud to announced that five of its students will be receiving this scholarship.
