H. WAYNE SNIDER DISTINGUISHED GUEST LECTURER SERIES

Jenn Moser
CEO, Northeast Region at Marsh &
McLennan Companies

Wednesday, October 16, 2019, 12:00pm-12:50pm, Alter Hall 031

Jennifer M. Moser currently serves as Chief Executive Officer of Marsh & McLennan Agency's Northeast region.

With more than 20 years in the industry, Jennifer wakes up each day to perform with purpose. Ms. Moser is a growth leader responsible for strategic sales coaching, principled client engagement, operational excellence, and the alignment of resources to deliver best in class solutions across the Northeast platform.

Jennifer began her career as a commercial business insurance consultant at Brown & Brown Insurance. She advanced within the organization to Executive Vice President & Profit Center Leader. In 2011, she started her own independent insurance brokerage firm, which she ultimately sold to private equity. From there, she progressed to senior executive leadership roles. Jennifer prides herself on welding her passion to her performance to increase potential.

A graduate of Temple University, she sits on the board of Monmouth University's Institute of Risk Management School.

MEET OUR FACULTY!

John V. Dormuth, CPCU, ARM

This semester, Professor Dormuth teaches Introduction to Risk Management (RMI 2101). He is also the Director of Industry Relations for the RIHM Department.

Fun fact: Professor Dormuth auditioned for Survivor. He says the following on his experience: "While my desire to earn a spot on the show was not successful, I feel as though on some days that the joys and realities of life since then have perhaps in some ways mirrored the experience I may have realized from this reality competition. Nonetheless, life is a collection of wonderful experiences and that cannot possibly be scripted."
