Molly Minardi has worked in the employee benefits field for more than 25 years. She is currently the Director of Underwriting and Operations at Trion Group, a Marsh & McLennan Agency, LLC Company.

Headquartered in King of Prussia, Pa., Trion is a leader in the employee benefits marketplace, with more than 400 associates and ten offices nationally. Trion's core services focus on health and welfare benefits plans, large-employer absence, disability and life programs, benefits administration, communications, and voluntary benefits services. Trion was founded in 1999, the result of a merger between Strategic Benefits and Garno/Addis, whose operations date back to the mid-1960s. Trion had become the third largest benefits specialist in the United States in 2010. In December 2010 Trion was acquired by MMA, a subsidiary of Marsh, Inc., to serve the property and casualty and employee benefits needs of the market.

Molly works with clients and Trion's consulting teams to identify and implement benefit strategies that meet the clients' goals and objectives, by providing the benefit risk, trend, financial modeling and analysis they need to make informed decisions. In her role, she manages the Underwriting and Consulting Operations, coordinating corporate goals and objectives with the company leadership team.

Molly started her career at The Prudential Insurance Company of America. At Prudential, Molly worked in a Managed Medical Accounting Unit before moving to an Underwriting role. After 10 years at Prudential, she decided to venture into the world of Consulting and accepted a position at RTI Consulting, where she worked for 7 years before moving to Trion.
